Ortho Dedication

Thirteen is not unlucky for Immunohematology. That is the number of years that Ortho-Clinical Diagnostics has supported the publication of the September issue—the “Ortho” issue—of the journal; and that represents 13 of the 19 years that Immunohematology has been published. In addition, Ortho-Clinical Diagnostics distributes copies of each of the four issues of the journal published each year to members of their Bankers Club. Thirteen years of receiving the journal! Wonderful!

That represents a major contribution to the support of publication of this journal and demonstrates once again the commitment that Ortho-Clinical Diagnostics has to promoting education for its customers in the field of immunohematology.

If you appreciate this generous gift as much as we do, please tell your Ortho-Clinical Diagnostics representative how much you enjoy the journal and appreciate their support of it.
