Moderation of treatment effects by parent-adolescent conflict in a randomised controlled trial of Attachment Based Family Therapy for adolescent Depression. Scandinavian Journal of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and Psychology 2020;8:110-122

Erratum

The two figures in the original version of the paper Moderation of treatment effects by parent-adolescent conflict in a randomised controlled trial of Attachment Based Family Therapy for adolescent depression unfortunately contained some errors.

In Figure 1 “Allocated to ABFT” was printed as N=29, but is corrected to N=30. “Discontinued intervention” in the ABFT arm was printed as N=5 (3 withdrew from treatment, 2 undetected exclusionary criteria), but is corrected to N=6 (3 withdrew from treatment, 3 undetected exclusionary criteria). “Lost to followup” in the ABFT arm was printed as N=6 but is corrected to N=7. “Lost to followup” in the TAU arm was printed as N=2, but is corrected to N=4.

In Figure 2 the plots are misplaced with reference to the labeling of informants. The upper left plot is mislabeled as adolescent report of conflict with mother, but is actually adolescent report of conflict with father. The upper right plot is mislabeled as adolescent report of conflict with father, but is actually father report of conflict. The lower right plot is mislabeled as father report of conflict, but is actually adolescent report of conflict with mother. The lower left plot is correctly labeled as mother report of conflict with the adolescent.

Corrected figures have been supplied (next page).
